

Eilidh Patterson

in concert

"This is music made by a person who has been broken and remade, not someone who is merely trying to write songs." - Ron Block

Sunday 2nd August 2026, 6.30pm
St. Mark's Church
BARROW IN FURNESS

FREE ADMISSION (suggested donation £5)

Tickets available from St. Mark's Church and online at www.ticketsource.com/st-marks-barrow

Eilidh Patterson

Eilidh (pronounced EYE-lee) is a warm, engaging singer songwriter of songs that come straight from the heart. With crystal clear vocals her songs span the genres of folk, pop, gospel and bluegrass. Eilidh's music is rooted in personal stories and has a natural way of connecting with audiences.

Having grown up in Derry Northern Ireland, enjoying the close-knit harmonies of the family gospel group, Eilidh roots in gospel music shine through every performance.

This love of music has taken her across the UK, Ireland, and the United States. Inspired by artists such as Alison Krauss and Steve Earle, she honed her craft in Nashville, recording her second album on the legendary Music Row with contributions from Grammy-winning folk musicians Tim O'Brien and Ron Block.

Now with five studio albums and one EP Eilidh is a hard working independent artist driven by her desire to connect with people.